WOMAN AS A HELPER. MAN DEPENDENT IN OLD AGE.

Helplessness of Man to Fit Out a Home without a Woman's Help.

A single man may have an estate, a principality; he can own a great hotel and fill it with guests; but he cannot create a home without a woman to help him, and that, too, a woman whose service is not for money. When it comes to home, there is not a solitary dressmaker in the land, ensconced in her little room with her geranium, her canary and her sewing-machine, who cannot completely eclipse him, this being the result, not of his sins, but of his sex.

Undoubtedly each reader will think, or try to think, of some exception to all this—some single man who is happy, some "jolly bachelor," some "cheerful widower." No doubt there are those who can be happy, especially during the first half of life, without the sense of home. A, with his wealth and his paintings, and his yachts and his delightful monologue; B, with his perpetual journeys; C, with his six dogs, and our late Cambridge professor, with that family of hens which he tended, like a herdsman, with a long staff, and which he trained to take food from stakes stuck in the ground instead of scratching in the flower beds—all these may doubtless have found a bachelor life not inconsistent with happiness; but where, after all, is the home? Neither yachts, nor pictures, nor steamer tickets, nor dogs, nor hens, can supply that. "Home," says the proverb, "is where the heart is," but if so, no man seems to have heart enough to fit out a home without a woman to help him. A woman can do it for herself; there lies her advantage.

It may be harder for a woman to make money; undoubtedly it is harder. She makes a dollar, perhaps, where a man makes twenty; but when it comes to purchasing power her dollar goes the furthest toward the maintenance of a home. So long as she retains it she is strong and self-respecting, and even if she parts with it, so strong is the instinct of home that she can sometimes reconstruct it for herself even in a boarding-house. If the home is combined with a little freedom in the use of money, it gives more comfort and more local prestige than a lone man can win by a fortune. What would be the social condition of any country village in our Atlantic States without a first-class maiden lady? She is the daughter of "old square" somebody, or of "parson" somebody else; she lives in the great square house with its elms and its white lilacs and its breezy hall; she has a maid or two who have lived with her so long that they seem like half-sisters; she has in daily use the precious china and the old chairs that her envious city niece vainly tried to rival at auction rooms; she manages the book club and the church sociable; she is the confidante of all the love affairs; she calls upon the new-comers, if worthy—indeed the new-comers, if worthy, bring letters to her. To the older inhabitants of the town she always seems young and even elegant; she has a prolonged tradition of precedence that outlasts youth and beauty; if she has a sister they are spoken of to the end of their days as "the Parker girls." All this is the joint result of womanhood and home, or of that womanhood which creates home. It is not only potent for itself, but it extends its potency over all other homes. What, compared to this, is the social position given by wealth to the lonely old bachelor of the country village? Though he be a millionaire, he is simply "the old bachel."

The truth is that as people grow older it is the man who becomes dependent, and the woman the central and essential figure of the household, since she can do without him and he cannot do without her. The proof of this lies in the fact that we see all around us self-sufficient and contented households of women, while a house that contains men only is a barracks, not a home. In youth it is easy to ignore, to say with Shakespeare in Henry V.:

"Tis ever common."

That men are merrier when away from home. But the merriment is shallow, the laugh is forced, and years and illness and sorrow soon bring him back, a repentant prodigal, to his home and to woman, the only home-maker.—T. W. Higginson, in Harper's Bazaar.

"I never know what to do with my feet when I'm in a parlor," said the embarrassed man. "Did it ever suggest itself to you that you might steer them toward the door?"

The squabble in the New York Senate the other day seems to have been about equally discreditable to both sides, and affords a very fair example of the results of making partisan interests superior to public duty. The Governor has been withdrawing names for the Railroad Commissions and sending in new ones with unnecessary frequency, solely for partisan advantage. The Senate has been refusing to act on the nominations, for the purpose of political combines on its part. When the Governor sent a communication two weeks ago last Friday the Senate tried to prevent its reading by adjournment, to keep itself from being cornered. The Democratic Lieutenant Governor scattered parliamentarily law to the winds in his determination to have the message read; and the Republican Senators knocked the rules of the Senate out of decency into next week for the purpose of howling the communication down. The Republicans now talk of impeaching the Lieutenant Governor for his course. That may be called for by the nature of the case; after which it is to be hoped that the people will impeach the Senators.

The recent debate on the long and short haul question before the Interstate Commission seems to be gradually opening people's eyes to the real question involved in the case. With regard to that application of the roads to be allowed to haul grain for export cheaper than for domestic consumption, the St. Louis Globe-Democrat remarks: "If they can haul freight from the West to the seaboard for export at a given rate, why can they not haul it at the same rate for domestic consumption? The country can not be made to believe that they have been transporting grain to the Atlantic cities for export at losing prices and from purely philanthropic motives." The same question applies to nearly all of the applications under the same section.

The International Record of Charities believes the country to be on the eve of a new departure from the present methods of dealing with criminals. It recognizes the growth of a feeling "that our past methods have been too lax, and that for this reason crime has grown more rapidly than the increase of population would indicate that it should." It would probably be more accurate to say that our past methods have been too unscientific rather than too lax. While it may be true that sterner and more repressive measures are necessary for habitual criminals, it is also true that, as the Record itself urges, "there is an equal need for the application of a gentler and more reformatory discipline to novices in crime."

It is now stated that the American bootlers in Canada who have got short of funds are opening saloons for living. Not having any chance to get up combines in Canadian politics—in which it is whispered that the undue competition of Sir John MacDonald would shut them out—they are forced to fall back on their only remaining talent and utilize their unquestionable judgment of liquors.

In Connecticut the people are inclined to consider a certain young man insane, because he does nothing but talk about base ball, and always knows how every game is going to come out. There seems to be a good deal of reason in that view; but expert estimates indicate that there are about 10,000,000 such lunatics in this country.

The announcement from Justice Field, of the United States Supreme Court, that he is out of the Presidential race forever, is calculated to evoke the inquiry when he was in it?

The Boston Globe has moved into its new building and will give a banquet to the news boys of the city. The banquet to be given to Col. Taylor May 10th will be the grandest in the history of journalism.

HONORS PAID TO A COMPOSER'S REMAINS

PRESS DISPATCHES TO THE GAZETTE

Serious Drouth in Texas.

GALVESTON, Texas, May 2.

The News, commenting on the drouth, says: "The drouth of last year and that of the present season are unparalleled. In the extreme north-west of Texas and extreme south-west there have been rains of late that will prove of incalculable benefit to the cattle districts, but the agricultural districts pure and simple, except perhaps in a limited area in Northern Texas, are suffering seriously from want of rain. In all that belt of country between San Antonio and Austin, from Austin to Waco, from Waco to Bremond, and down the Central railroad to Houston and the circumference described by this geographical circle, the country stands badly in need of moisture. Oats and small grain within the district specified is almost a total failure, while corn that should be well advanced and in vigorous condition is seriously wilted and in a bad condition at the roots. This is the worst feature of the agricultural situation in Central and Middle and Southern Texas. There is still time ahead to make the cotton crop although at best the cotton crop will be late. Unless rains come within six or eight days the corn crop in Texas will be very much of a failure. So serious is the outlook that wholesale houses are withdrawing their men from the road, pending the solution of the rainfall problem.

CATTLEMEN IN COUNCIL.

DENVER, Colo., May 2.

There have been several mysterious and secret meetings of prominent cattlemen in both Colorado and New Mexico during the past ten days. It is rumored here to-night that the purpose of these meetings has been to organize a company to be known as The American Cattle Trust Company, the object of which will be to fight the Armour dressed beef syndicate of Chicago. The new syndicate includes Nelse Morris, of Chicago, and many of the wealthiest cattle owners of Colorado, New Mexico and Western Kansas. It is claimed they have a paid up capital of $25,000,000.

HEAVY HAILSTORM IN MINNESOTA.

ST. PAUL, May 2.

After the day's Summer heat this section was visited this evening by a terrific hailstorm, which did much damage. The hailstones ranged in size from a pea to a full grown goose egg, some of the largest weighing four ounces, and measuring nine inches in circumference. Glass was broken wherever exposed, that in the tower of the State Capitol being riddled, and in some cases even plate glass being shattered. A number of small structures, chimneys, etc., were wrecked by the wind.

MORE CRUELTY IN IRELAND.

QUEENSTOWN, May 2.

Wm. O'Brien, editor of the United Ireland, and Mr. Kilbride, one of the tenants evicted from the Lansdowne estate, sailed home for New York today. In the course of his remarks Mr. O'Brien said that he carried with him the full approval of the Irish people. He felt that when liberty-loving Canadians heard the true account of Lord Lansdowne's cruelties to his tenants, they would not tolerate their being governed by such a man.

THE O'KEEFE-WINAN DIVORCE CASE.

NEW YORK, May 2.

The action for absolute divorce, brought by Mrs. Alice O'Keefe against R. Winan, the Baltimore millionaire, has again been decided adversely to her. The general term of the Superior Court to-day handed down a decision affirming the judgment of the lower court, which decided that Mrs. O'Keefe was never married to Winan.

SERIOUS LOSS BY FIRE.

LOUISVILLE, May 2.

The large warehouse of Brown, Johnson & Co., on the corner of Fourteenth and Maple streets, together with the nine-story grain warehouse of Stradon Bros., adjoining and freight cars loaded with grain, burned this morning. The loss is $250,000.

FATAL BOILER EXPLOSION.

PITTSBURG, May 2.

The boiler of the tow-boat J. C. Risher, burst at an early hour this morning while the steamer was passing Woods Run, a few miles below this city. A man named Hayes was instantly killed, and two others fatally injured.

AN ESTATE RECEIVER REMOVED.

NEW YORK, May 2.

Chief Justice McAdam, of the City Court, to-day removed Ernest Harmer from the Receivership of Bartley Campbell's estate, and appointed A. M. Palmer, of the Madison Square Theater, in his stead.

TROUBLE AND SUICIDE.

PITTSBURG, May 2.

This morning when Jennie Oswalds, a girl of 11 years of age came from her bedroom into the dining room of her home in Shaler township, near Etnaborough, just beyond the limits of the city, she found her father, Charles Oswalds, sitting in his chair with his throat cut and her younger sister, aged 9 years, lying on the lounge dead. It was a case of suicide on the part of Oswalds, and all signs indicate that he murdered his daughter before cutting his own throat. The child had evidently been smothered to death, as a piece of cloth was found stuffed in her mouth. It is supposed that constant brooding over his domestic and financial troubles had turned his brain. Oswalds was a blacksmith and 45 years of age.

PRESIDENT KEEP WILL RESIGN.

CHICAGO, May 2.

Telegraphic news from New York last night to the effect that President Keep, of the Chicago and Northwestern Railroad, was about to resign in the interest of a more aggressive policy, and that Marvin Huggett, Second Vice-President and General Manager of the road, would succeed him, was called to Keep's attention to-day. "So far as I am concerned," said Keep, "the report is true. I have been President of this road for fourteen years, and resign because I want more rest and less confinement."

LOCAL NEWS.

Happenings of the Day in Reno and Vicinity.

County Commissioners.
The County Commissioners held their regular monthly meeting this morning, the full Board being present:

R. S. Osborne appeared before the body and complained that one, L. Lewis, a furniture dealer on Commercial Row, is obstructing the sidewalk with business signs, contrary to the city ordinance. The Board having no authority to act in the matter, it will probably be attended to by Constable Upson, who is acting as City Marshal.

J. E. Linderman lodged complaint against parties residing in the Western addition who injure the streets there by allowing water to flow into them. The matter will be looked after by Chairman Hytners.

A. Smith lodged a complaint against Frank Marsino for cutting an irrigating ditch across a public highway without properly bridging the same. The clerk was instructed to notify Marsino to either cease flowing the water through the ditch or else bridge it over.

Rescues until 2 o'clock.

An Attempt at Suicide.

L. W. Wemberly, Road Supervisor of Brown's District, this county, attempted to commit suicide this morning at about day-break at his ranch on the Virginia road, some nine miles southeast of town. For several days past Mr. Wemberly has suffered from a brain trouble, and this morning at the time mentioned he arose, took the covers off his bed, and, procuring a razor, went to a cellar that had just been dug back of his house, where he made a bed and laid down upon it and deliberately slashed his throat. The cuts inflicted were seven or eight inches long, but did not reach the wind-pipe. The unfortunate man was discovered shortly afterwards by his daughter, who gave an alarm and dispatched a messenger to Reno for Dr. Bergstein. The doctor returned to town at about noon and reported the patient to be resting quietly and in a fair way to recovery.

District Court.

The following business was transacted in the District Court this morning, Judge Bigelow presiding:

C. W. Friend vs. J. H. Kinkead — Case ordered dismissed in accordance with the stipulation of the plaintiff's counsel.

C. W. Friend vs. the Pyramid Lumber Company — The plaintiff, through his counsel, presented to the Court a supplemental complaint, asking that certain parties claiming interest in the property in dispute be brought in and the rights of all parties claiming interest in the property be determined in the trial of the action. Counsel for defendants objected. It was ordered that the supplemental complaint be admitted.

A Rich Mine Near Reno.
A GAZETTE reporter saw this afternoon several samples of silver ore from the Willow Creek mine, three miles above Steamboat Springs, that are heavy in lead and would probably assay $50 and upwards a ton. The mine is owned by Governor Stevenson, and contains, it is said, a large ledge of the ore. A shipment of several car-loads will be made to the reduction works here next week.

An Unwarranted Assault.

J. C. Swickard, a sheep-shearer, assaulted R. Koenig, advance agent for the Thalia Opera Company, in the Palace Hotel last evening. The bar-keeper, J. J. Grant, in trying to separate the two, received a severe cut on his right thumb. Mr. Koenig was cut in the back of the head. Swickard endeavored to escape, but was captured by officer Nichols and jailed. The assault was unprovoked and unwarranted.

Sale of Railroad Land.

The number of sales at the land office of the Central Pacific Railroad have been greater during the past month than during any month in the last two years. A few sales were made in Nevada and Utah, but the greater part of the land sold was in California. A large number of Eastern people with means are inspecting railroad and other lands with a view to purchasing.

A Marriage.

E. C. Davis, of San Francisco, and Miss Kittle Kinkead, of this town, were married last evening at the home of the latter, Rev. Lucas officiating. Only a few intimate friends were present at the ceremony, after which the happy couple left on the overland for California, where they will spend the honeymoon.

At Rest.

The remains of Mrs. Minnie Coffin were laid at rest in the Knights of Pythias burial ground yesterday afternoon. The services attending the burial were sad and impressive, and the funeral cortège the largest seen in Reno in a long time. The floral tributes were numerous and beautiful.

Will Save You Work.

You can buy ladies' underwear at F. Levy & Bro's. cheaper than you can make them. They carry a large stock, and ladies will do well to price them.

PERSONAL.

Governor Stevenson and wife returned this morning from California.

Wm. Dunphy, the cattle king, passed east on this morning's overland.

H. M. Yerington and wife and S. L. Jones went below Saturday evening.

George Russell, of Elko, and R. H. Lindsay returned this morning from California.

Judge Sabin, of the U. S. District Court, and John W. Mackay went below Saturday night.

Bishop Whitaker expects to leave Philadelphia for Nevada on or about the 3d of next month.

Hon. George Ernst, of Nye county, passed through Reno on Saturday night's overland for California.

Richard Koenig, business manager for the Thalia Opera Company, and his wife favored the GAZETTE office this morning with a call. Very pleasant people.

Miss Mabel Linn, who has been living at Winnemucca, arrived here last evening. She will go to Verdi to-night and will leave tomorrow evening for Sacramento.

"Humbug."

Of this new play as presented by Roland Reed and his admirable company, to appear at the Nevada Theater next Friday evening, the Chicago Times says:

It belongs to the prevalent farce-comedy family, though with a more coherent story, absurd as much of it is than most of its tribe, and reckoned as a piece designed to afford Mr. Reed opportunity for displaying his genuine comedy gifts, may be considered successful. Its plot has been sufficiently outlined already. Improbable in itself, and its dialogue as swift, crisp and sparkling. As to the opportunities afforded to Mr. Reed, probably anything at all could be used by him to the end of amusing people, for he has given the genuine comedian's gift of showing a humorous side to everything. That he does make the part unusually amusing need scarcely be said; he always does that.

Reserved seats on sale at Thursday's book-store.

Horrible Accident.

Says yesterday's Carson Index: News was received in Carson yesterday of the accidental killing of Patrick Barnes, a teamster, last Thursday morning, this side of Hoye station on the Walker River.

It appears that Barnes was driving heavily loaded freight wagon, guiding the horses by holding the reins alongside the wagon, and while so engaged he stumbled and fell under the wagon, the front wheel of which passed over his head and mashed it horribly.

The body was brought into Carson yesterday and buried in the Catholic cemetery. Mr. Barnes was engaged in hauling freight between Carson and Hoye's station, and gained the respect of all who knew him. He was about 35 years of age, single, and leaves a mother about 80 years old in the East.

Death of a Nevada Typo.

A week ago yesterday the friends and members of the Los Angeles (Cal.) Typographical Union paid the last tribute of respect to Joseph B. Weston, native of Plymouth, Mass., aged 32 years. The deceased was for several years a resident of Nevada. In the palmy days of Gold Hill he was a compositor on the New, and afterwards he worked on Reno dailies. Kind friends furnished many beautiful floral tributes, and the remains of Joe, were laid at rest in Rosedale cemetery.

Prices for Cattle in Montana.
Says the Miles City Stock Growers Journal: While there is much inquiry for cattle, our live-stock brokers one and all say that it is impossible for buyers and sellers to agree upon prices, on account of the inability of parties to ascertain the exact status of the losses. This indecision continues and sales are not made, nor will transfers take place till the round-up puts things on a sure basis.

A Boy Murder Trial.

The trial of young Woods, aged 16, for the shooting of Lee Patton, a younger boy with whom he was hunting last February, and who was found dead the next day, is creating much interest at Santa Rosa, California.

Notice.

Notice is hereby given that the undersigned has this day purchased from Paul Edwards his interest in the business known as the "White Labor Cigar Factory," east side Virginia street, between First and Second. Miss DELLA CONOLLY.
